- May 15, 2021

International Day Of Families

The International Day of Families is observed on 15 May every year. The Day was proclaimed by the UN General Assembly in 1993 with resolution A/RES/47/237 and reflects the importance the international community attaches to families. The International Day provides an opportunity to promote awareness of issues relating to families and to increase knowledge of the social, economic and demographic processes affecting families.

The theme of International Day of Families 2021 is 'Families and New Technologies'. According to the UN, the celebration of the day this year will focus on the impacts of new technologies on the well-being of families.

The day was proclaimed by the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) in 1994 in response to the changing economic and social structures that are affecting the stability and structure of family units in different parts of the world.

The family is the smallest building block of society and it holds utmost importance in a person's life. The familial bonds within the members of a family helps in providing safe environment for an individual's development. On this day, people spend time with their loved ones and cheer the bond among the family members.
